Red Pine Software is Looking For Talented Part-Time Software Engineers

Successful candidates will have on job training and chance to gain experience on embedded software development for automotive industry within a team of experienced engineers. Please find the details below:

Who are we?
Red Pine is a growing software company with international business partnerships. The company focuses on two main areas in automotive industry: Advanced Driving Assistance Systems (ADAS) and In Vehicle Infotainment (Ivl). With having an experienced core team of software engineers and collaboration of international teams, we are delivering high quality software for automotive industry.

Red Pine has two offices located in Izmir/Turkey: Alsancak R&D Center and Ege University EBILTEM

The Job Description
The engineers will be developing, maintaining and integrating embedded software for automotive platforms and products. ADAS platforms (TI, Qualcomm, NVIDIA, Intel, etc), automotive interfaces (LIN, CAN, FlexRay, etc) and several types of sensors will be used throughout the development.

Qualifications
- The candidates should have good educational background in computer science, electronics engineering or mathematics (preferably 4th grade students) and have strong interest in embedded software.
- Proficiency in C/C++ and good understanding of multitasking systems is a must. Knowledge in embedded software development and understanding of RTOS and related development environments is expected.
- Successful candidates are expected to have fluent English, both written and spoken to work with international teams and customers.

You Should Expect...
Red Pine is looking forward to grow it's team with young talents. After completing part time period successfully, you may have chance to start your career within Red Pine.

We offer; End to end ownership, Work on cutting edge Technologies, Competitive salaries and attractive perks, Work/Life balance, International exposure, Mentorship, Projects for well-known companies

You will work with high achievers and top-notch engineers in a very open environment on challenging technical problems.

If you are interested in the job opportunities within Red Pine Software, please apply:

hr@redpine.com.tr
www.redpine.com.tr